

Rebecca Ward's three "S": School, Saber and Sincerity

Contributed by Craig Harkins
Thursday, 20 March 2008

Schermaonline, the Italian fencing news site, has posted an interview with US Women's Sabre fencer Rebecca Ward. (Photo courtesy FencingPhotos.com)

Rebecca Ward is the 2006 Turin World Championship women's saber gold medalist. She is the first fencer and likely she will remain the only one to win a triple crown by earning the Cadet, Junior, and Senior World Championship titles in one year (2006) at the incredibly young age of 16. She is home schooled and is ready to start her college education at Duke University this fall after the Olympic Games in Beijing.

Read the full interview over at Schermaonline.com